

This survey uses a technique called “randomized response” to protect your privacy when answering sensitive questions. For each question, you will roll two dice. Whether you answer the sensitive question or simply enter a random number is determined by the roll of the first die. Do NOT reveal the outcome of the dice to the person administering the survey. Your true answers are protected, because it is impossible for anyone but you to know whether you have answered the sensitive question or not. You may also choose not to answer. If you do so, put an "x" as your response to that question. You need to make this decision before you roll the dice.
